UNANIMOUS NOMINATION OF STRONG TICKET RESULT OF REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

THE TICKET.

Representative, L. L. Mitchell, County Judge, Morris Eskridge, County Court Clerk, W. S. Ball, County Attorney, Allen R. Kincheloe, Sheriff, Dennis Sheeran, Supt. Schools, Andrew Driskell, Jailor, W. J. Hall, Surveyor, R. M. Basham, Assessor, Henry Cannon, Coroner, Chas. Durham.

Hardinsburg, Ky., July 25.—(Special.)—The above is the ticket which was unanimously selected at the Republican county convention held here at the courthouse, Monday afternoon. The large circuit court room was crowded by enthusiastic Republicans, who certainly appeared as if they meant business. It reminded one of the convention of 1894, whose nominees swept the county like a cyclone. Everything was harmonious, and body was in the best of humor. Every precinct was fully represented.

Chairman Gus Shelman called the convention to order at 1:30 o'clock, and the call was read to the delegates by the secretary, Jno. P. Haswell, Jr. Then, on motion of Taylor Beard, the Hon. Charles Blanford was elected temporary chairman. In assuming the chair, Mr. Blanford made a short, telling speech, which met with genuine approval from the delegates. Upon the motion of Capt. J. H. Rowland the chair was authorized to appoint the necessary committees. On the Committee on Credentials he appointed Capt. Rowland, Jno. B. Bates and D. C. Huron. Achilles Dye, Peter Bennett and Henry Carmon were named as a Committee on Permanent Organization, and on the Committee on Order of Business, Milton Whitworth, D. N. Howard and Chas. Patterson were appointed.

The Committee on Credentials reported that there were no contests, and recommended that all the delegates be seated. The report was adopted.

Japanese Painting.

The Japanese, with their natural, unobscured view of life, have ever sought in their art to mirror what a great painter and critic has termed "men's primordial predilections." Art, however, that seeks to embody pleasant impressions on the unchanging proportions of human nature must have as well as a future, must be able to look backward as well as forward. Not one's life labor, but that of many generations, is required. No people have better understood this than the Japanese. They have also clearly perceived that no art that is not true to the changeless element in man can endure, while, on the other hand, any subject, however trivial, can be made eternally attractive if only treated in accordance with aesthetic law.

Japanese painting delights us by its delicate fancy, its poetry, its freedom, its spirit, but what gives these qualities special and enduring charm, what makes the play of fancy never weary, the liberty never mere license, is that they find expression in and through a framework of design so finely conceived that it we see reflected as in a mirror the fundamental principles which govern all true art.—W. M. Cabot in Atlantic.

Power of Fashion.

Though we can neither tell whence fashion comes, nor how, nor what it will do next, nor why it is yesterday one thing, today is something else and tomorrow will be different, nor why it always has been, is now and probably always will be obeyed, it moves steadily forward into that realm of common sense where beauty and utility blend in perfect harmony and ever keeps step with the progress of civilization and culture. No garment can please the man of refined and cultivated taste, however correct it may be in its, however well it may be tailored or however excellent the materials, unless of which it is made, unless it is fashionable, even though it violates no

The Committee on Permanent Organization recommended that the temporary organization be made permanent, which was adopted.

The report of the Committee on Order of Business recommended that the candidates for the various offices be nominated in the order in which these names would appear on the ballot. The report was adopted without amendment.

The chair then called for nominations for the office of County Judge and John M. Butler, of Custer, in a neat speech, nominated Morris Eskridge. Capt. J. H. Rowland seconded the nomination, and Mr. Eskridge was unanimously selected as the candidate for judge. The chair appointed John M. Butler and Robert Polk to escort the nominee to the convention hall. When he appeared he was received with an enthusiastic burst of applause, which he gratefully acknowledged. He made a strong, conservative speech, accepting the nomination, and promised an active and winning campaign.

The rest of the ticket was completed in the order in which their names appear at the head of this article, except that the Representative was nominated last. Each nominee except Mr. Mitchell, appeared before the convention and accepted, and pledged a vigorous campaign. On behalf of Mr. Mitchell, who was unable to be present on account of illness in his family, Mr. Haswell accepted the nomination for representative, he being authorized so to do.

On motion of Hon. R. M. Jolly, the log cabin was chosen as the emblem of the party and then the convention adjourned.

The Republicans generally were highly pleased with the ticket, regarding it as one of the strongest that could be placed in the field, and they enter the campaign confident of election at the hands of the people.

law of art and of itself is a thing of beauty, for without that indestructible something that only fashion can give it is like a flower without fragrance or a tune without music.—Sartorius Art Journal.

Two Tales of Macready.

It is not always well to strut and fret one's little hour upon the stage too realistically. Macready, who threw himself into his acting heart and soul, used to tell funny stories about the effect of his easy, colloquial manner upon the players collected for his company in small provincial towns. Once in the play of "William Tell" he turned to one of these stupid rascals and put the question, "Do you shoot?" so naturally that the man was quite thrown off his guard, and, to his horror, replied, "A little, sir, but I've never had a go with one of them crossbows." Another time in "Virginia" he asked, "Do you wait for me to lead Virginia in, or will you do so?" only to be greeted unexpectedly by the actor who played Ilius with, "Why, really, sir, I don't care; just as you do it in London."

Sennit.

In Polynesia and the Pacific Islands generally the outer husk of the coconut husk is braided into strands of uniform texture, known to the natives as sennit and used by them for a variety of purposes. The framework of their houses is held together by braided sennit, and the strakes of their boats are united by it. It is the staple from which string is made to bind the adze blades to its handle and to tie the different parts of their implements securely together. In short, whatever things are nailed or screwed or pegged or glued in other lands are tied together with sennit by the south sea islander.

A MIXED FAMILY.

Batesville, Ky., July 25.—(Special.)—A mixed family of Indians, Mexicans and Spaniards camped a short distance below town Saturday night and Sunday. They were seventeen in number. One Indian woman was a fortune teller. They said they were from Indian and Oklahoma Territories and were going to Cincinnati. People came from far and near to see them and several photographs were made of them.

Goes to Improve Health.

Mrs. A. C. Sheldon, whose health has been impaired for some time, left Sunday with her children for a visit to relatives in Evansville, and from there she will go to Illinois, where she will probably remain for several months.

PICNIC WAS SUCCESS.

Bewleyville, Ky., July 25.—(Special.)—The farmers' picnic Saturday was a success. There were about 600 people present, who seemed to appreciate the effort made by the Bewleyville local union, A. S. of E., to entertain them.

Hon. Charles Blanford, Dr. P. W. Foote and Sherman Hall made fine addresses, and Mr. Gannane gave excellent readings. The ice cream, lemonade and other things in that line was a popular feature. The music was good and well dispersed throughout the program.

to a dozen owners or a nice substitute. In the center of the table are grouped four crutches, around which twine festoons of flowers; miniature legs in ivory compose the handles of the knives and forks, while the piece de resistance is invariably a magnificent turkey that has been deprived of a leg before being brought to table.

He Knew His Man.

"You seem depressed." "Yes, I've got to ask my girl's father tonight for her hand." "Boah! Don't be alarmed. The stern father exists only in the comic papers." "Maybe so, but the borrowing father is a painful reality. He'll lend me for a fifty to a dead moral certainty."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Her Tremble.

"Ah, how I love to hear your daughter sing!" said Archie as he waited in the parlor. "She's practicing her exercises now, isn't she? What a beautiful tremolo." "No," replied the mamma scornfully. "She has had the sore throat for three days. She's taking a gargle."—Indianapolis Star.

Followed.

A servant girl had been sent on an errand. On returning she said to her mistress, "Oh, ma'am, there's been a young man following me." Mistress—Oh, indeed? Servant Girl—Yes, ma'am. I know he was a following me, because he kept looking around to see if I was going.

Tart Answer.

"A woman's bonnet would not cost much if it wasn't for the trimming," said the miserly husband. "Neither would a man's whiskers," answered his wife.—Chicago News.

Prof. Taylor's Training School.

To the anxious parents seeking the proper school for their boy, we would submit the Louisville Training School of Louisville, for their consideration. This school is conducted under the personal supervision of Prof. H. K. Taylor, its principal and proprietor. The fact that Prof. Taylor is connected with this institution is the best recommendation that can be given it. At this school a boy is taken in the rough and trained by Christian teachers and brought up under the influence of highest moral standards, so that when he has finished the boy has inculcated within him the highest ideal of manhood. The rigid military discipline a boy receives at this school makes him, in after life, a man of regular habits and firm mind. This one feature of the school, while it is not carried to the extreme, is much to be commended.

Regular study hours under the supervision of a teacher are kept daily. This is an advantage a boy has at this school over the school that sends its students to keep their own study hours. Each boy is under the personal care of Prof. Taylor throughout the session, thus insuring a year of vigorous study. Graduate professors are employed who also are excellent mentors. Only seventy-five students are taken into the school each year. Ages from twelve years up. Application for entrance should be made at once to Prof. H. K. Taylor, Beechmont, Ky., to insure accommodation for the ensuing year. Catalogue sent on request.

Masonic Barbecue September 1.

At the regular bi-monthly meeting of Cloverport Lodge No. 138, F. & A. M., last Friday night it was decided that the order will give its annual picnic and barbecue this year on Friday, September 1. The school is twelve days later than that on which the picnic and barbecue was given last year. The annual affair this year will be the fourth given by the lodge. The other three events were memorable successes and Prof. Macready will exert every effort to make the one this year exceed them in point of attractions and attendance.

As the affair is over a month away nothing definite has been decided in regard to the attractions and program.

FAIR TO BE SUCCESS.

A prominent business man of Lexington was at New Seelbach last night, and was discussing the prospects of the Kentucky State Fair, to be held this fall in the Bluegrass capital by the Kentucky Breeders' Association. "Lexington is taking hold of the project in a most enthusiastic manner, and all indications are that we shall have a great fair. There is no reason on earth why we should not Lexington is in the heart of the finest section, agriculturally, of the State, and can draw from a country famous in song and story as the garden spot of the world. The situation is an ideal one, and with the magnificent track at our disposal, which I consider the best by all odds in the South, there is no reason why this year's fair should not surpass the wildest dreams of its promoters."—Monday's Louisville Herald.

EXPECTS TO REACH POLE.

North Sydney, C. B. July 28.—The Peary Arctic exploration steamer Roosevelt, which left Bar Harbor Wednesday, reached here to day with Commander Peary, his wife and daughter on board. After coaling, the Roosevelt will leave for the North to-morrow evening. Commander Peary in an interview tonight said that he was greatly pleased with the initial long run of the Roosevelt. He said he had every hope of reaching the pole, where he makes his dash over the snow and ice next February. He expects to take the ship as far North as Latitude 83, from which point the distance to the pole will be less than he has already covered on sledge journeys on former occasions.

Rev. Newsom Improved.

Capt. J. H. Rowland has received a letter from Woodburn, Ky., stating that Rev. J. T. Newsom, who underwent a surgical operation on July 13, is now able to sit up and hopes to be out in a few days and continue his evangelistic work. This is welcome news to Rev. Newsom's many friends here.

SHIPPING TOBACCO.

McQuady, Ky., July 25.—(Special.)—The Equity tobacco warehouse has re-handled about one hundred and thirty-five thousand pounds of tobacco here, and is now pricing and shipping it to market.

WANT DOLLAR WHEAT.

It is understood that the farmers of the counties of Southern Indiana tributary to New Albany have been invited to become members of a combine composed of the entire country, the purpose being to delay putting their crops of wheat on the market until the price of the cereal advances to $1 a bushel.

There must be some foundation for the report from the fact that although the market opened at 87 cents, fell a few cents and since advanced, but very little wheat is being offered for sale. In the last two weeks many thousands of bushels of wheat of good quality have been threshed in the counties near New Albany, and but very little of the grain has been delivered in that city either by rail, river or wagons.—Monday's Courier-Journal.

HAS STOOD THE TEST 25 YEARS.

CROPS ARE RUINED.

Hawesville, Ky., July 23.—Hancock county farmers along the streams of Blackford, Lead creek and Caney creek are bewailing crop losses as never before. They were caused by the terrific down pour of rain on Thursday afternoon and all day Friday. The rainfall was incessant and heavy and all the creek bottoms have been drowned out. Tobacco and hay have been ruined and corn and wheat greatly damaged.

Worst Disaster Since Maine.

A boiler of the United States gunboat Bennington, at San Diego, Cal., exploded last Friday and there were 110 casualties, forty-nine composed the known dead, seven those believed to be dead and fifty-four those in hospitals. The disaster is the worst in the navy since the explosion of the Maine in 1898.

More Snakes Than Ever Before.

John Jackson, of Tarboro, says there are more snakes of all kinds in his part of the county this summer than he has ever known before, and attributes the increase to the unusually wet weather. He and two sons have killed four in tenesons on his farm this month. Three of them had three, five and eight rattles respectively. They were the first rattlesnakes ever killed on his farm.

CROPS AND PRICES; NEWS FOR FARMERS.

(Up-To-Date Farming.)

Chance For Dollar Wheat.

The eyes of the world have been turned toward America and its wheat crop. The supply of flour and wheat is the lowest in all countries ever known. Mills have been closed down waiting for the new crop. The tension is very high and any holding back of supplies by farmers will quickly be followed by the payment of their price.

Farmers, now is your opportunity. There is not the bumper crop that the government, millers and speculators have been telling you about. Every bushel of your wheat will bring you $1.00 a bushel on basis of Chicago, St. Louis and Minneapolis markets if you really want it. You will get it if you refuse to sell for less.

Prices For Tobacco Advance.

In the western part of Kentucky where dark export tobacco is grown the farmers are still holding the 1904 crop. Much of it remains in the barns where it was cured. More of it is safely stored in the farmers' warehouses where it will stay until the stocks in the buyers' hands are exhausted, or the price meets their demand. Arrangements are being made to hold the crop now growing in the same manner and the more that is withheld the sooner the price will advance. Nearly all the tobacco grown by unorganized farmers has been marketed and prices maintain a higher average than a year ago. The buyers stubbornly protest against raising the prices more but there is nothing else for them to do. Stocks are rapidly diminishing and the tobacco is wanted.

Trust Starts Fear Report.

There will be a great reduction from the 1903 crop, and I do not think the acreage will be 75 per cent. of the 1904 crop. Secretary Wilson's report of a 50 per cent. increase to the contrary notwithstanding. The report to an increase is not true and also the origin in the camp of the trusts. Tobacco is increasing in price steadily here, and if there was a pronounced increase in acreage this would not be. —Hon. D. T. Hamill, Kentucky.

Mr. Hamill, who is a member of the Tennessee legislature and also a farmer who has been one of the leaders in the farmers' organization, has an excellent opportunity to observe crop conditions in the dark tobacco districts of Kentucky and Tennessee. We place great confidence in his opinions.

Letter From Mrs. Huckleby.

Cleveland, Fla., July 17, 1905.
My dear J. D. Babbage, Cloverport, Ky.: Dear Sir:—Enclosed find $1.00 to renew my subscription to the News. The home paper is read with the same degree of interest as when I first left Cloverport, although I have been more than a score of years here elapsed.

The cold last winter did considerable damage to the pinyon, orange and grape fruit trees are looking well, but the buyers say the fruit crop will be smaller than last year. One grove in this county sold last week for $20,000. It was, perhaps, the largest grove in the State.

My son has just returned from Panama. He says he completed his part of the isthmian canal in less than four months. Numerous diseases are predominant and develop with alarming rapidity, and one glimpse at Monkey Hill is appalling.

May the News continue in the path of success.

Respectfully,
Mrs. W. L. Huckleby.

Giant Grapevine in Hardin.

Elizabethtown, Ky., July 19.—Hardin county has perhaps the most wonderful grapevine in Kentucky. It is of the Ives Seedling variety, and grows on the premises of Mr. John Irwin, who lives a few miles from town. The vine is about twenty-five years old, measures 225 feet in length, and its main trunk is more than a foot in diameter, with profuse branches that cover a large two-story farmhouse. Mr. Irwin gathered 600 pounds of grapes from this huge vine last year, and it is estimated that its yield this season will be not less than 1,000 pounds.

Immense Spot on Sun.

Boston, Mass., July 20.—Two sun spots are now exciting considerable interest among the Harvard astronomers of the Harvard observatory. They are close together, somewhat above the center and on the right side. They are estimated to be 100,000 miles in diameter, twelve times as big as the earth. When they first appeared on Friday they were not easily visible, but now they can be plainly seen through smoked glass or even with the naked eye when the sun is low.

Whether the hot weather is caused or affected by them is not known. Each spot consists of an umbra, or dark center, surrounded by a ring of fringes of lighter penumbra. The shape of the whole is irregularly oval. These spots are supposed to be collections of condensed gas containing solid matter, but scientists are not agreed, and some of the astronomers think that the spots are depressions in the surface of the sun or bodies moving from the earth to the sun. The spots on the sun at present are among the largest which have appeared in recent years, although they cannot compare with those which appeared in 1892.

KIDNEY TROUBLES

Increasing Among Women, But Sufferers Need Not Despair

THE BEST ADVICE IS FREE

Of all the diseases known, with which the female organism is afflicted, kidney disease is the most fatal, and statistics show that this disease is on the increase among women.

Mrs. Emma Sawyer.

Unless early and correct treatment is applied the patient seldom survives when once the disease is fastened upon her. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the most efficient treatment for kidney troubles. It is gentle and is the only medicine especially prepared for this purpose.

When a woman is troubled with pain or weight in limbs, backache, frequent painful or scalding urination, swelling of limbs or feet, swelling under the eyes, an uneasy, tired feeling in the region of the kidneys or notices a brick-dust sediment in the urine, she should lose no time in commencing treatment with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it may be the means of saving her life.

For proof, read what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Sawyer.

"I cannot express the terrible suffering I had to endure. A derangement of the female organs developed nervous prostration and a serious kidney trouble. The doctor attended me for a year, but I kept getting worse, until I was unable to do my daily work. I was in my mind I could not live. I finally decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as a last resort, and I am today a well woman. I cannot praise it too highly, and I every sufferer would do well to try it. Mrs. Emma Sawyer, Conway, Ga."

Epworth League Social.

The social given by the members of the Epworth League at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Skillman on Tuesday evening of last week was a delightful affair. Among the features enjoyed by the members of the League who were present were amusements on the wide lawn and vocal and instrumental music furnished by Messrs. Ira Behen and Lawrence Murray, members of the League, and Messrs. Geo. Young and Proctor Koch, members of the Baptist Young People's Union. Their singing, especially, was appreciated and was roundly applauded. These young men, whose voices are among the best in town, have been singing together this summer and bid fair, after more practice, to make an excellent male quartet, and perhaps as good as Cloverport ever had.

A Surprise Party.

A pleasant surprise party may be given to your stomach and liver, by taking a medicine which will relieve their pain and discomfort, viz: Dr. King's New Life Pills. They are the most wonderful remedy, affording sure relief and cure, for headache, dizziness and constipation. 25c at Short & Haynes drug store.

Ninety Cent Wheat in Meade.

Several crops of wheat have been sold to H. C. Woodson in the last few days. He has purchased several crops at 87c. The Irvington Milling Co. has purchased all the wheat in the bottom above town at 87c a bushel. The heavy rains of the past few weeks have had the effect of steadily advancing the price on the grain. It is thought the price will reach one dollar within a few days. The reports continue to bring the news of great loss on the part of the farmers, who were so unfortunate as not to be able to thrash wheat before the rains set in. There is no possible way of making an estimate on the amount of the loss sustained by the farmers on account of the rains during the past two weeks. —Meade County Messenger.

At Work, Though Suffering.

(Central Methodist.)
Dear Central: After months of suffering, even though he continued in his revival work, the Rev. J. T. Newsum had to submit to a surgical operation last Saturday morning, July 15. The operation promises to be successful. And he hopes to be out again soon, filling his engagements with the brethren.

Pray for him that he may soon be restored to his health.

Mrs. J. T. Newsum.

Woodburn, Ky., July 17, 1905.

Stevens on Panama Canal.

"Whatever human beings can do for the building of the Panama canal, I shall be glad to do. To the best of my light I shall attack the task and stick to it. For the rest, God knows." John F. Stevens, chief engineer of the Panama canal, is quoted as saying.

"When I leave the United States Thursday," continued Mr. Stevens, "I expect it to be for a long while. I have taken this position with the canal commission fully realizing the magnitude of the task before me. It is a big job, but I expect to pull it through. There will be no failure through lack of determination any day. When I get to the isthmus I will start right in. There won't be any time wasted in preliminaries. There is little that I can say about the plans for pushing the work on the canal. I have not formulated them except that I have always in mind to get things going. I expect to make Panama my home until the canal is completed. That is the scene of operations, and that is where I shall be."

Persistence of Darker Races.

From the National Review.
Thirty years ago it was common enough to meet persons, not uncommonly, who talked as though the darker races were dying out before the cin, gunpowder and disease disseminated by Europeans. Almost every one knows better now; knows that the Chinese, the Hindu, the Arab, the negro—the chief colored races, in fact—increased and multiply wherever the white man restrains war, famine and pestilence. Even the American Indian, between Texas and the Great Chaco, is no longer to be improved off the face of the New World. The education of the colored races and their equipment by European science are only beginning. Yet the last decade has witnessed the defeat of two great European Powers—one by chocolate and moon talmers, the other by tawny slanders.

Schoolboys and Soldiers.

(Youth's Companion.)
The strong schoolboy friendship which began at West Point between Grant and Longstreet lasted throughout the war. Grant was of the class after Longstreet, but somehow their silent, serious natures were in spontaneous accord, and, says Helen D. Longstreet in "Lee and Longstreet at High Tide," they became fast friends from their first meeting. That one was from the West and one from the South made no difference, just as later it made no difference in their feeling of personal affection that one led the army of the Union and the other was "Confederate general."

General Longstreet once spoke of the details of the cantillation at Appomattox. He said that when he went into the conference room in the McLean residence as one of the Confederate commissioners, he was compelled to pass through the room occupied by General Grant as his headquarters. He felt curious to know how General Grant would receive him. He had loved Grant as one of his closest boyhood friends, but times were much changed. Grant was victor, he was vanquished. He was therefore prepared to observe the rich demeanor of those between whom ceremony only forces recognition. But as soon as he entered the room Grant rose, approached him with a greater show of demonstration than ever in the old days and aapped him on the shoulder, exclaiming:

"Well, Old Pete, can't we get back to the good old days by playing a game of brag?"
At West Point the nickname among the boys for General Longstreet was "Old Pete."

The important part of that meeting, the splendid bearing of the conquered Confederates, the most-demeanor of the Union victors, and above all, the noble generosity of Lee in refusing to accept the sword of Lee and in giving the fairest terms possible and giving the existing circumstances, these are known to all who have read United States history.

Saved His Comrade's Life.

"While returning from the Grand Army encampment at Washington City, a comrade from Elgin, Ill., was taken with cholera morbus and was in a critical condition," says Mr. J. E. Hoagland, of Eldon, Mo. "I gave him Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and believe it saved his life. I have been engaged for ten years in immigration work and conducted many parties to the south and west. I always carry this remedy and have used it successfully on many occasions." Sold by Short & Haynes.

Sunday School Progress.

The American Sunday School Union has issued its eighty-first annual report. The report shows that the union has established 3,488 schools in the last year, enrolling 95,890 pupils and teachers. It also shows a large number of Bibles and Testaments to the destitute. The missionaries of the union visited in the year 20,000 different families. Besides this, the report shows that 14,500 other Sunday schools have been added in various ways.

Tobacco Selling Well.

From various places come reports of sales of tobacco at or above the minimum prices. It is significant to note that the best prices are obtained where the best organization exists. Prices of $11.00, $12.00, $12.50 and even $13.50 come from the dark tobacco districts of Kentucky and Tennessee. These same grades sold last year at $4.50 to 5.00 per cwt.—Up-To-Date Farming.

Roads in Splendid Condition.

Our Mattingly correspondent says: John Jennings, with a force of men and the road grader, has been grading the road from Cloverport to this place. The road is now in splendid condition.

Consumptive Demand Increases.

"All lines of tobacco production are now in excess of the same period of 1903-1904, and the fiscal year will undoubtedly close with a line showing the increase in all lines as follows: Tobacco (smoking and chewing) 11 per cent.; cigars, 2 per cent.; small cigars, 21 per cent.; cigarettes, 5 per cent.; snuff, 1 per cent." —Western Tobacco Journal.

The above paragraph refers only to manufactured goods. There are two other facts that we should at all times keep in view. First, the production in 1904 was below the average and it is altogether improbable that the total amount produced in 1905 will exceed that of 1904. Second, consumption has increased considerably in 1904 and there is no reason why it should not continue to do so. It is demonstrated, therefore, that the demand has increased and that the supply has not. The only thing that can prevent the price from advancing will be dumping the 1905 crop by the tobacco growers. Do not do it, farmers. It is worse than folly, for it injures your neighbor as well as yourself.

The Diamond Cure.

The latest news from Paris, that they have discovered a diamond cure for consumption. If you fear consumption or pneumonia, it will, however, be best for you to take that remedy mentioned by W. T. Medine, of Vanleer, Tenn. "I had a cough, for fourteen years. Nothing helped me, until I took Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, which gave instant relief, and effected a permanent cure." Unequaled quick cure for Throat and Lung Troubles. At Short & Haynes' drug store; price 50c and $1.00, guaranteed. Trial bottle free.

Waiting For the "Sunny South."

The summer-loving people of Cloverport are looking forward to the coming of the "Sunny South." Swallow & Markle's fine new floating palce, which is scheduled to show here sometime in August. So far as known, it will be the last show boat of the season, and it is advertised and reputed to be the best. Swallow & Markle's first floating place created such a favorable impression here that the coming of their second boat is looked forward to with pleasure and the belief that it will equal and perhaps exceed the first boat.

Not as Severe as June.

The heat was very excessive here several days last week, the mercury spending most of its time above the 90 mark. The suffering was not so great, however, as it was about the middle of June, when there was a memorable hot Saturday and Sunday, the latter being the most oppressive day known in years. The greater humidity during the warmest part of June made the suffering more intense than it was last week. The rains during the latter part of the week brought relief.

The heated spell previous to the rain last week made excellent crop growing weather.

Bootlegger in Hard Luck.

(Owensboro Messenger.)
William Miller, a citizen of the hill region of Grayson county and said to be a "bootlegger," is having more trouble than even "bootleggers" are down in the catalogue for. Miller was arrested some time ago by Deputy Marshal Nichol on the charge of selling whisky without license. He was tried before Commissioner Lindsey and held over to the grand jury, his bond being fixed at $500. This he satisfied, and his cousin, Edward Miller, as surety, and he went back to his home with assurance that he would enjoy a reasonable degree of quiet until time for the grand jury to meet.

Yesterday, however, Deputy Marshal Nichol nabbed him again and took him before the commissioner. He was informed that his cousin had "turned him over," saying that he had no longer felt justified in standing sponsor for William's appearance before the court when it meets in November. William was in more deplorable condition than when first arrested, but he announced his intention of "making a shift" of some kind and at once started out, in charge of the deputy marshal, to find another bondsman. Before night he had found what he was looking for. A new bond was filed out and signed by Pat Vernon, and Miller returned to his Grayson county home.

When you want a pleasant laxative that is easy to take and certain to act, use Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. For sale by Short & Haynes.

New Brandenburg Bank.

J. H. Trent, Jr., informed us Saturday that the stock had all been subscribed and it was purchased upon which to build a new building in which a new bond will be opened for business "by August 1. Mr. Trent will be the president, and J. R. Willett has been selected as the cashier. The stockholders are principally Meade county farmers, with a few shrewd local Louisville capitalists. The bank will start with a capital of $15,000, which will be increased as the business demands. Meade County Messenger.

CURE FOR HAY FEVER

Short & Haynes Say Hyomel Will Give Relief—Sold Under Guarantee.

The season for hay fever is almost at hand, and many people feel that they will be obliged to go away in order to avoid the sneezing, watery eyes, and other annoying symptoms of this disagreeable summer disease. Short & Haynes wish us to announce that when Hyomel is used as a preventive, or a cure, there will be no hay fever. They advise daily treatment with Hyomel for two or three weeks before the usual time for the annual appearance of hay fever. If this is done, the attack will be prevented. However, if the preventive treatment is not started soon enough, and the disease makes its appearance, use Hyomel six or seven times daily, and relief will be given at once.

There is no stomach dosing when Hyomel is used. Breathed through the nose pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit, its medicated vapors reach the minutest air cells, killing all germs and soothing and healing the irritated mucous membrane.

The complete Hyomel outfit costs but $1, extra bottles 50 cents. It is the only treatment for hay fever sold by Short & Haynes under a guarantee to refund the money if it does not give satisfaction.

To Reorganize Crop Bureau.

Washington, July 19.—Assistant Secretary of Agriculture Willet N. Hays has taken hold of the affairs of the Bureau of Statistics, with instructions from Secretary Wilson, approved by President Roosevelt, to cleanse the bureau of the stigma left by the cotton leak scandal. His authority is unlimited. He has been told that he may have whatever clerical force he needs, and if there are any employees whose service he thinks should be dispensed with they will be discharged. It is regarded as extremely likely there will be a complete reorganization of the force employed in the statistical office, as well as a thorough revision of the orders governing the monthly crop reports, the latter having already been outlined in a circular issued by Secretary Wilson.

In that regard Secretary Wilson said today that hereafter if there are accusations against the integrity of the bureau it must be directed against himself or Assistant Secretary Hays, as he has no intention of allowing any other person access to information that might be used in stock jobbing.

WEST END YOUNGSTERS SHOW THEIR TALENT BY RENDERING MINOR OPERA.

Cast of Characters.

Martha Frances Reid, prima donna; Mary Owen Oulze, special vocalist; Emily Lois Reid, beauty queen; Julia Hill, special vocalist; "Bitty" Reid, speechmaker; Clifton Fort, speechmaker; Claude Pate, stage manager.

It is evident that stage fever is spreading out even into the youngest blood of Cloverport, from the theatrical performance given in the improvised amphitheatre in Mrs. L. T. Reid's yard, last Saturday night. When the high school girls produced their play, people little thought that their love for the footlights would be transplanted into the hearts of their younger sisters. But the fire spread and a full-fledged minor opera had been gotten up and rendered by the little folks of the West End before the praise for "Sweet Lavender" had cooled down. A spark flew from the East End to the West End and last Saturday night's performance was the culmination of all the amateur exhibition.

The stage for last Saturday night's opera was formerly a piano box. Oriental scenery, pot flowers, palm leaves and footlights made of lamp, transformed the rude piano box into an ideal stage. The background was hung with oriental scenery from Jerusalem. The sides were invisible and needed no adornments. The stage front was draped on both sides with expensive curtains. The floor was covered with wrapping paper that came around the piano. Two lamps resting on the ground served as footlights. Between them were the flowers and palm leaves.

Part of the audience was seated with chairs gathered from the neighbors and placed in front of the stage in a semicircle. The other part of the audience were permitted to stand or be seated upon the ground in a comfortable place without extra charge over the admission fee.

The actresses' costumes were made of crimson crepe paper. A crimson ribbon was tied about each one's ankle, and a white bow on their heads. White stockings and black shoes were worn.

The admission was one cent; gross proceeds fifty-six cents. Profit could not be computed.

All the cast did their parts splendidly, with the exception of Clifton Fort, who was to make the welcome address, but could not appear on account of sickness.

About thirty folks were present, all of them enjoying the performance. The company was treated to refreshments after the performance by Messrs. Harry Hills and H. A. Oelze.

Work Begins in Two Months.

A special dispatch to a Louisville paper from Madisonville says, in part: "It is now almost assured that this section will be the scene of much railway building for the next year or so. Two roads are assured, while two more great systems are expected to build."

"All the right of way from this city to Cloverport, Ky., has been secured for the building of the line which is to pass through some of the richest coal lands in this section of the state, and which will shorten the route from this city to Louisville about forty miles. It is said work will commence on the construction of this road in two months."

To accommodate those who are partial to the use of atomizers in applying liquids into the nasal passages for catarrhal troubles, the proprietors prepare Ely's Liquid Cream Balm. Price including the spraying tube is 75 cents. Druggists or by mail. The liquid embodies the medicinal properties of the solid preparation. Cream Balm is quickly absorbed by the membrane and does not dry up the secretions but changes them to a natural and healthy character. Ely Brothers, 56 Warren St., N. Y.

Equity Houses Ship Tobacco.

The Toll City carried to Louisville yesterday seventy-five hogheads of tobacco. It belonged to the Equity warehouses and with this shipment there has been over 300 hogheads shipped by them.—Thursday's Owensboro Messenger.

EIGHT PAGES.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 26, 1905.

ENDORSES THE TICKET.

Crab Orchard, Ky., July 25.—(Special.)—I congratulate the Republicans of Breckenridge county on their work done at Hardinsburg Monday. They have named a good, clean, sober ticket, made up of men who will give every man a "square deal," whether he be Republican, Democrat or Independent. I shall support it myself and urge all independent voters to support it.

JNO. D. BABBAGE.

The corn crop is coming in for its share of compliments these days.

Country preachers, says the Owensboro Enquirer, are like the devil; they take no vacation.

We are against the man in this campaign who uses the jug, the bottle or money to corrupt the voter, be he Democrat or Republican.

The Republicans of this county have nominated a good clean ticket and there is no good reason why all good Republicans should not support it.

Indiana has 20,000,000 acres in farm lands, of which nearly seventy per cent. is under a high state of cultivation and less than two per cent. is waste land. How does this compare with Kentucky?

Editor Babbage has gone to the annual press meet, which is in session at Crab Orchard Springs, Ky. After twenty-nine years of hard, honest endeavor to publish a country weekly that, in a fair way, approaches his ideal, he finds time to indulge in a few days of rest. At sixty summers old we find him still loyal to the town and county he loves. Whether or not his actions have been always in accordance with the ideas of those about him, a true conscience has always been his guide.

Some years ago he was offered a field in a sister state where more money could be made, but he refused and remained with the people of Cloverport and Breckenridge county. In every instance, in every crisis of this people, the News has stood for the right. Its support has been given to every right movement and to every right enterprise that has been launched. And, if, after twenty-nine years of this brave, ceaseless effort, Breckenridge county people give Mr. Babbage credit for what he has done, we are sure that he will be content.

MUCH EXCITEMENT IN THE EAST END.

William Hicks, of Cannelton, Runs
Amuck, Gets Marshal's Gun
And Keeps Crowd On Move.

An exciting affair, in which one William Hicks, of Cannelton, was the central figure, occurred at the Henderson Route depot about 7:30 o'clock last Tuesday evening, after the press hour of the week's issue of the News. Hicks, who was armed with a revolver, attacked Marshal DeHaven, wrestled with him on the depot platform, got possession of his gun and had the crowd at the depot running in every direction to keep out of his way. A few bystanders assisted Marshal DeHaven, and the gun was taken away from Hicks, who then ran to the end of the platform and turned down Third street. Marshal DeHaven struck him in the head with a cane but he continued to run until he collided with a telephone pole at the corner of Third and Hick streets. Here he was arrested, and taken to jail.

Hicks came here that afternoon with a companion east-bound train No. 44, which arrives at 4:45. Half an hour before west-bound train No. 43 arrived they were at the depot and asked when the train would be due. It is supposed that both Hicks and his friend intended to return on No. 43, but when the train stopped at the depot, Hicks was stepping out of the train on the west end of the platform and when awakened by the friend refused to board the train with him. Failing in his effort to get Hicks to go with him the friend boarded the train alone. At this point Marshal DeHaven stepped up to Hicks and tried to persuade him to follow his friend. For answer Hicks sprang at him and attacked him. They clinched and were soon down on the platform in a rough and tumble struggle. Physically they were not a match. Hicks being a taller, heavier and stronger man than Marshal DeHaven, but the latter put up a stiff fight. Crazed as Hicks was by drink, perhaps no man would have been his match even if he had had his height of six feet and weight and strength in proportion. Several bystanders took part, separated the combatants and came to Marshal DeHaven's rescue. Hicks fought with the strength of a giant and the ferocity of a maniac and it was with difficulty that he was pulled away from Marshal DeHaven. During the affray a holster, containing Marshal DeHaven's revolver, became untied from his body and fell on the platform. Hicks got it in his possession and was soon on his feet waving it in a dangerous manner. Somebody cried, "He's going to shoot," and the crowd ran in all directions for safety. Marshal DeHaven, and others had a fierce struggle with Hicks before they got the revolver away from him. A drummer by the name of Miller succeeded in detaching Hicks. Fortunately the revolver remained in the holster while in his possession and did not explode if he had gotten the weapon out of the holster and had thrown off the officer and his hastily summoned deputies long.

DANGER SIGNALS.
No engineer would be mad enough to run by the flag which signaled danger. It is different with the average woman. They almost constantly run by the danger signals of nature and the attempt costs thousands of lives every year. When the system of organs is irregular or entirely gives out, when sleep is troubled and broken, when there is a constant feeling of dullness and languor, when nature is holding the danger signal. The stomach and its kindred organs are failing. They are not doing their work and the body is losing the nutrition which its strength depends upon. Such a condition calls for a prompt use of Dr. J. C. Golden Medical Discovery. It cures diseases of the stomach, liver, and other organs of digestion and nutrition, purifies and enriches the blood and builds up the body with sound, solid flesh. I have had so much benefit from your medicine that I can't say a few words that you may use for publication." Mrs. J. R. Harris, of Owensboro, Ky., writes: "I had been troubled with a complication of diseases for years. My stomach and liver bothered me most. Some of my worst pains were under the right shoulder and under the right arm. I was so weak that I could not do any work. I lost flesh fast so tired and miserable it seemed I could not live. Took medicine from my physician, but it did not help. I then took Dr. J. C. Golden Medical Discovery, and after taking it a few days I felt so much better. I was able to do my work. Appetite improved. I feel so much better. I am now well."

A Great Doctor Book Free.—Send 50 cent stamp to Dr. J. C. Golden, Buffalo, N. Y., to cover cost of mailing only. You will send you a copy of the book. It contains Common Sense Medical Advice, recovered. Cloth-covered 10 stamps. Pierce's Pellets Cure Constipation.

enough to see it there is no telling what deadly effect it might have had. The usual crowd, scattered about the depot, and the passengers on the train would have made any other action for Hicks if he had used the revolver, but he had no chance to do this.

Hicks broke away and ran when he was disarmed. Marshal DeHaven struck him in the head with a cane. The crowd seemed to have had no effect on Hicks as he rushed wildly down Third street, Marshal DeHaven, Wm. Preston and others in pursuit. His mad run did not end until he had collided with a telephone pole and had been hit over the head again. He ran his head into the pole with sufficient force, it seemed, to crush his skull. He was knocked down by the collision, but was quickly on his feet, and ran east on High street. He had gone only a few yards when his pursuers came up to him. Mr. Preston being the first man to catch him. The collision with the telephone pole almost put Hicks "out of business" but it took a few more raps on the head with the cane to "finish" him. He was then completely subdued and was held without further trouble. Hicks' cries of "Murder! Murder!" as he was being gotten under control, brought people in the neighborhood out of their houses and created much excitement until the case was known.

In the struggle on the platform at the depot Marshal DeHaven received cut bruises about the face and was bitten on the hand by Hicks, though not seriously. Hicks had several stitches taken in his head, at the jail after his arrest. The first man to recover from the officer's cane. Hicks was tried Wednesday morning before Judge Williams, in police court, on the charge of being drunk and disturbing the peace, and given $30 in fines and costs. He admitted doing everything that was charged against him and seemed to regret it as well as his trip here, which, he said, was "a pleasure trip," or was intended to be, at least.

Hicks was released from custody Thursday afternoon, friends arranging for the payment of his fines, and he left on the early evening train for his home at Cannelton.

Bowel Complaint in Children.

Wheat Beard Causes Abscess.
Harvey Harris, of near town, was operated on last Thursday for an abscess in his face by Drs. Simons and Wendelen. Harris took a chew of tobacco on which was a wheat beard. The wheat beard worked into the hair of the beard and caused the abscess. One side of his face was badly swollen before it was operated on.

Eight Recover From Typhoid.

Meeting at Freedom.
The annual protracted meeting at Freedom church will be held the second week in August. There will be no selling on the grounds during the meeting.

English Fish Laws.
Fish, because of its tendency rapidly to decompose, holds a peculiar position among foods. In England it is the subject of a special act of parliament. So long ago as 1608 men knew the evil consequences of eating fish, and cutting mackerel of uncertain port mortem age, so they passed an act providing that except during the hours of divine service, no fish should be sold on Sunday. That act has never been repealed.

Making It Plain.
Sleigh—Oh, I say, Miss Hamerton, why is it that you are always out when I call? Miss Hamerton—Because I'm foolish, I suppose. Sleigh—I—er—beg pardon?—name is Hamerton—Well, you know the old saying, "A fool for luck."

Sleep.
If the muscles are not tired, there cannot be a full demand for sleep, unless, of course, the brain has been overworked. Healthy bodily exercise, carried to the point of rendering rest sweetly welcome, is one natural means of promoting sleep.

Won Over.

THE AMAZING MINK.

How Does This Animal Run in Terrorizing the Rabbit?

The mink is as slow a runner as the rabbit is swift. I have seen minks run several times, and their peculiar, measuring gait takes them along about as fast as a man can run. The rabbit cannot only go with incredible speed, but can course for hours. And yet the mink is able to run down a swift rabbit. The rabbit seems to give up the race; it would look almost as if some unknown law of nature made him the prey of minks, as if he felt that was his destiny, and did not try to escape from it. In the cases we have seen the jump of the rabbit was shorter and shorter until it became little more than a helpless hop. The marks in the snow indicated that the mink was not being dragged by the rabbit, but that the mink did not overtake his victim until the latter, for no apparent reason, had given up the race. And yet a fox would catch a rabbit, and probably never in open running.

Then it would seem as if these blood suckers have some power of which we know nothing. As it is, only one explanation can be offered why so slow running an animal as a mink or weasel can catch as swift an animal as a rabbit.

We know the mink does not tire out the rabbit by following him leisurely, maintaining his slower gait throughout. It never gives his victim a chance to eat, and so by the slow, sure process of work and worry wearing out poor Bunnies.

Hence it must be that the rabbit has, in common with other small rodents, that terrible, demoralizing or panicky fear of all the weasel family—a fear so great and bewildering that once a mink is on its trail the rabbit becomes paralyzed with it, and, instinctively knowing that he cannot escape by running in a hole, gives up. If this is so, then there is a law in nature that we do not fully understand, a law akin to that which makes a rabbit a coward and a woodchuck brave to his dying gasp. A ferret put into a gray squirrel's hole was at once driven out by the indignant squirrel. A rabbit has a sharp teeth as a squirrel, and surely might defend itself as well as a young woodchuck, yet the latter will face unflinchingly two dogs as big as man after his hole is broken and he is helpless he will hold up his head and whistle a fierce defiance, yet a rabbit will not even try to escape apparently from an animal that could just as well elude as not. It seems almost as if the rabbit were meant for food for other animals, nature having given him great reproductive powers and unlimited food, and then saddling him with some strange fatality that makes him play his part in spite of himself in the general scheme of wild life.—Ontario.

The English Royal Plate.
The royal plate at Windsor is generally reckoned to be worth about $200,000, and it is no unusual thing at a state banquet at the castle to have plate to the value of $500,000 in the hall. There are two state dinner services, one of gold and one of silver. The gold service was purchased by George IV, and will dine 120 persons. The silver service is of plate alone of this service cost over $12,000. On state occasions there are usually placed on the dining table some very beautiful gold dragons captured from the Spanish armada, which are now of course of priceless value, while the great silver wine cooler, made by Rundell & Bridge for George IV, and weighing 750 ounces, always adorns one corner of the apartment. As sideboard ornaments there are pretty trinkets in the way of a peacock of precious stones valued at $20,000, and a tiger's head from India, with a solid ingot of gold for its tongue and diamond teeth. This wonderful collection of plate is crown property, which practically means that it belongs to the country.

Execution of Louis XVI.
The crowd which surrounded the carriage closed around me, bore me along to the place of execution and placed me, so to speak, in front of the guillotine. I felt the appalling spectacle. The crime had been lately accomplished when a cry of "Vive la nation!" rose from the foot of the guillotine. It was repeated by the bystanders; it passed through the crowd. This cry was followed by silence most wonderful and most profound. Shame, horror and fear already hovered over the wide expanse. I passed over it a second time, carried along by the flood which had brought me hither. Every one walked slowly and scarcely ventured to look in his neighbor's face. The rest of the day was spent in deep stupor. It had spread over the whole of France. I was obliged to go out twice to find the streets deserted and silent. The assassins had lost their wonted daring. The public grief made itself felt, and they regretted before it—Members of Chancellor Pasquier.

Talents and Confidence.
A single talent man, supported by great self confidence, will achieve more than a ten talent man who does not believe in himself. The mind cannot work with vigor in the presence of doubt. A wavering mind makes a wavering execution. There must be certainty, confidence and assurance or there can be no success. An undisciplined man who believes in himself and has faith that he can do things he undertakes often puts to shame the average college bred man, whose over culture and wider outlook have sometimes bred increased sensitiveness and a lessening of self confidence, whose decision has been weakened by constant weighing of conflicting theories and whose prejudices are always open to conviction.—Success.

A wealthy Australian squatter in order to protect his six daughters from fortune hunters left his property to them in equal shares, but decreed that if either married without the consent of the trustees she should forfeit her share to her sisters. When the case came up at Sydney it was found that the six sisters had all married without permission, and thus each had forfeited her share in the property to her sisters, a state of affairs which the ladies doubtless considered highly satisfactory.

WHO GETS THE INCREASE?

Cincinnati Post.

The United States Bureau of Labor has issued a bulletin in which the living expenses of the ordinary American citizen in 1900 and today are compared.

Farm products have gone up in price 22 2-10 per cent. Fuel and lighting have increased 32 6-10 per cent. Food products, under which heading are included chiefly the necessities of life controlled by the beef trust, have gone up 11 1-10 per cent.

Lumber and building materials are now 22 4-10 per cent. higher than in 1900.

Altogether, the living expenses of the average family have increased from 25 per cent. to 50 per cent.

Apparently there has been no corresponding increase in wages, salaries or ordinary business incomes.

Real prosperity would mean the prosperity of all. Today higher prices are in many cases but evidence of toll that a small group of men are levying on the necessities of a large group of men. What is the gain of the few is loss to the many. When one man is enriched at the cost of another it is but a mockery of prosperity. True wealth is created by labor. True prosperity is when this wealth is justly distributed among those who create it.

Several Weeks to Finish.

The surveying party of the Cloverport railroad are still at work on the location of the route and are now over in Muhlenberg county near Green River. It will probably be two or three weeks before the route is completed and the route definitely announced. President Holman is confident that the road will be built without delay provided people along the route comply with conditions concerning the right of way.—Madisonville Hustler.
